M.C. was preparing for her Final exam in her Algebra II class as I arrived. She had shared with me her study guide prior to our session, so I was prepared with a lesson plan to cover several concepts that were in her study guide.

I concentrated on the review of these concepts and provided her with multiple examples. I then had her refer to my examples as she worked through her study-guide problems. To ensure her complete understanding, I also had her explain the steps she used to solve each problem. Explaining her work helps her to gain mastery of the concepts. I have been using this approach on each of our last few lessons. It seems to be successful.

M.C.'s comfort level with the problems is increasing as her knowledge, gained from our sessions, is also increasing. This is a GOOD thing as Math proficiency increases as the student becomes more comfortable with the material.

While M.C. and I didn't complete her entire study guide during this session (There were many pages of Algebra II problems!) we DID complete enough to give her a good idea of what she may expect on her Final exam.

This was my last session with M.C. prior to the New Year. I look forward to helping her SUCCEED in the upcoming 2019 school Year.

Best Regards,
